We are pleased to invite you to take part in the seminar

NSR NEURO SOMATIC REPROGRAMMING - "The Science of Sustainable Neurological Empowerment"

NSR Methodology & Techniques

- Transformation of the self occurs through systematically working through the body
- The NSR integrative body-mind approach offers a much speedier resolution to physical, mental and emotional issues because both cognitive and somatic components of our experience are taken into account.
- The NSR Reprogramming Techniques cause a 'mechanical signal' across the connective tissue that balances muscular contractions and tensions, supports protein synthesis, changes gene expression and stimulates communication and cleansing between different cell types.
- The NSR Neuro Empowerment exercise series increase cell vitality, function and the ability to send and receive signals to other cells. These techniques have been proven to cause sustainable positive changes of the extracellular matrix including vascular, immune, nervous cells and regenerative cells.

So by receiving NSR Techniques, you are not only supporting your current energy flow and cellular health, but you are changing the future health of your body.
